

Childbirth Preparation Course

Here at Lis Maternity Hospital, we offer a childbirth preparation course in English! The childbirth preparation course is targeted to women and their partners who are at the beginning of their 30th week. We recommend signing up for the course around week 20 in order to ensure a spot, as our courses fill up quickly.

The following are just some of the topics covered in the course:

- Maintaining a balanced lifestyle
- Nutrition
- Signs of labor
- Care in the delivery room
- Coping with and minimizing pain
- Natural childbirth
- Types of birthing interventions
- Homeopathic care and alternative medicine during pregnancy and delivery
- The role of the partner/ other birthing companion in the Labour and Delivery Department
- Your initial bonding experience with your newborn
- Nursing your newborn
- The delivery bed
- Returning home

The course includes instructor-led lectures, video instruction and demonstration, practice sessions, and a tour of the Labour and Delivery Unit. All sessions are conducted in small groups by a certified hospital labor and delivery nurse who works in the department.

Course Registration

Registration and reservations are made over the phone exclusively, with payment.
